What our clients say...

"We have enjoyed a highly productive collaboration with Prof. Andrew Rice over the last four years. His expertise in the neuropathic pain area and his leadership in the translation of fundamental pre-clinical research into innovative pain management has significantly accelerated our drug discovery and development programs."
Dr Tom McCarthy, CEO Spinifex

"Prof. Martin Braithwaite is one of the most knowledgeable persons in the world in the prediction of explosive ideal detonation performance and related computer codes. He has offered valuable consultancies to Orica in the most timely manner in this area over the last few years." Jim Chan, Senior Research Associate, Orica

"Imperial was a natural partner offering the right combination of academic credentials and practical experience with field tests."
Business Development Director, PTV AG
